

Where Is Love

Where is love?
Can you help me now.
Cause there's a storm headin' my way
and I don't want to be around.
What is home?
Got no place to call my own.
What is war?
What are we really fightin' for?

I watch the fallin' rain against my window pane
Some things never change.
That fire in the sky,
another night I'll cry.

Father, Father.
Where have you gone.
There's so much I want to say to you.
I'll never know what went wrong.

I watch the fallen rain against my window pane
some things never change
That fire in the sky
another night I'll cry
oh, stop this pain.
